Bo is certified in narcotics detection. Bo is also certified in tracking, evidence recovery, suspect apprehension. And handler; Deputy Fairbanks and Bo are currently assigned to the night shift, working weekends.

Bo had several suspect apprehension deployments over the past year, however, two stand out. Bo was deployed on a subject fleeing on foot through a corn field after a vehicle pursuit. Despite being warned that the dog would be deployed, the suspect continued to flee. Bo was sent after the suspect. As a result the suspect surrendered.

On another deployment, Bo successfully tracked and detained a suspect who had fled from Grand Island Police Officers. After a brief foot pursuit, the suspect fled in a vehicle and wrecked a short time later. Bo tracked the suspect from the wrecked vehicle to an abandoned building. Officers forced entry into the building and Bo located the suspect hiding behind a closed door.

While Bo has been used for numerous narcotics sniffs in his career, in 2005 alone he has assisted with three noteworthy drug seizures: 175.5 pounds of marijuana, 104.9 pounds of marijuana, and 63.6 pounds of cocaine
